

Brand new event space at Wyndham Grand, Chelsea Harbour

Stand L700, Confex 2010

The opening of the Grand Ballroom at Wyndham Grand, London Chelsea Harbour at the start of 2010 heralds the arrival of London's most unique and large scale conferencing and events facility.

Natural light and stunning views make this a truly unique venue in central London. Up to 1,000 conference delegates, or 600 guests for evening events, can now enjoy the spectacular panorama of the marina from the spectacular glass-fronted room, set on the harbour's edge. The space is also flexible: the ballroom can be divided into as many as five discrete spaces, and three additional breakout rooms are available.

Beyond the ballroom, the refurbishment of this all-suite, five-star hotel has created effortlessly elegant and luxurious entertaining spaces complete with breathtaking views of the river and Chelsea Harbour.

The penthouse level, located on the eighth floor, has now opened its new Albert Bridge and Battersea Bridge meeting rooms, combining river views with a chic neutral colour scheme. Both rooms seat up to 60 people and are complete with plasma screens and projectors, and the two meeting rooms open into one space for larger meetings. A contemporary new executive lounge is exclusively available to those staying in the penthouse suites or using the meeting facilities on the penthouse floor, VIPs and celebrities.

The Events team at Wyndham Grand are also available to help at all stages of planning and delivering your event: from seating, catering and presentation requirements in meetings, to support with large-scale evening events. The hotel is ideally located a minute's walk away from the new Imperial Wharf train station; car parking for a large number of guests is also available.

Michael Schaefer, General Manager at the Wyndham Grand, said: "We are thrilled to offer these world-class facilities at the Wyndham Grand. The new penthouse floor and ballroom are stunning additions to the hotel, and we very much look forward to welcoming guests for business and leisure alike."
